ALL ABOUT END-OF-YEAR STUDENT EVALUATIONS

This week our faculty began the process of putting together end-of-year evaluations. This happens twice during the dance season, once in December and once following the May recital. Student evaluations allow faculty to check in as a team on the progress of each student, collaborate on teaching strategies, and celebrate our dancer's achievements over the past few months. For Program students (those in our Intro, Foundations, Elementary, Core Teen, and Physio classes), the instructors who teach each course fill out a spreadsheet that has the name of every student. There is space for them to discuss classroom behavior, successes in technique, and a few goals for each dancer to work on through the rest of the year. With the help of this spreadsheet, Ms. Charlotte creates a personalized video about each student and sends this through email to the account on our ADC system. For ART students who train under all or most members of the ADC faculty, teachers meet to discuss an overall picture of the dancer's strengths, progress, and areas for improvement. Many of these students have been at ADC for several years, which allows for a more detailed evaluation. Instructors discuss areas of support that the child might need. Where are there opportunities for leadership? What can we do to help this student gain resilience?

How can we challenge them to safely try new skills? How can we facilitate community with them and their peers? Ms. Charlotte uses the notes she takes in these discussions in making her personalized videos.

Student evaluations are one of our favorite ways to work in partnership with parents and share our enthusiasm for the upcoming months. Our faculty wants to see dancers succeed, inside and outside of the studio. The students' triumphs excite and inspire us to bring our best to Atlanta Dance Central. But we couldn't do it without our amazing ADC parents. Thank you for all you do to support your child's dance journey!

A woman with long brown hair, wearing a yellow sleeveless top, is sitting at a desk in an office. She is looking down at a spiral notebook and holding a blue pen. There are various items on the desk, including a blue container with pens and a small blue figurine. The background is a teal wall with a framed sign that says "A CROSS".

Ms. Charlotte sends out two personalized student evaluation videos a year: one over the holiday break and one following the spring recital.

A dancer in a blue tank top and white shorts is performing a backbend in a dance studio. She is on the floor, with her hands on the ground and her feet tucked under her head. In the background, other dancers and a teacher are visible. The studio has a blue wall and a wooden barre.

Our faculty are individually invested in nurturing our students' success and self-confidence. The care, concern, and compassion of our teachers is integral to our mission of holistic dance education.

FOR AGES 3-10

It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year: Sugarplum Showcase 2025!

If you have a student in our Primary Program, (ages 3-5) it is time for our annual Sugarplum Showcase. Your student will perform a holiday dance we have learned in class as a solo for friends and family. Make sure you have signed up for a time slot for Sunday, December 14th!

This is a great opportunity to get to know the teachers your student gets to learn from each week, see the hard work your student has been putting into classes, and for your student to practice performing in front of an audience before recital in May!
